One Jan. 1, 1919, diary entry recounts "The Fatal Blow," an incident where a rowdy and celebrating Tudury—thinking he was "back home" in Bay St. Louis—fired his service revolver into the night air. For this spontaneity, he was arrested, put in the guard house for one month, fined $30 and

ON ETV

SESAME STREET

It's been 20 years since Big Bird and his friends first appeared on the steps of 123 'Sesame Street' to win the hearts of preschoolers. Today, it's a rare child (or parent of one) who does not know that Big Bird is yellow or that Oscar the Grouch loves junk, that Susan is married to Gordon or that their neighbor Bob teaches school.

'Sesame Street' begins its third decade of delighting and enlightening children when the 20th season premieres Monday, Nov. 14 on Mississippi ETV. Airing at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m. weekdays, the whimsical Muppets and their neighbors on 'Sesame Street' continue to be the best friends a preschooler ever had.

LOW BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

Morning Edition features educator on Adopt-A-School

Dr. Cliff St. Germain, a leading New Orleans educator, will be the guest speaker Thursday, Nov. 17 at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce "Morning Edition" coffee. The 7:30 a.m. program, sponsored by Coast Electric Power Association, will be held at the Diamondhead Country Club.

St. Germain's topic will be the Adopt-A-School program and its mutual benefits to the educational system and the business community.

Also during the coffee session, the chamber, in cooperation with the Bay-Waveland and Hancock County school districts, will announce plans for a countywide Adopt-A-School program.

The concept of businesses and civic organizations forming a partnership with a school for academic and social enrichment began in 1973.

The program is based on the premise that businesses and the school have received.

One objective of the program is to provide opportunities for businesses, professionals, industries and organizations to contribute time, personnel, experience and other resources to schools, students and teachers. School adoptions allow students to learn about future career opportunities in the community.

St. Germain is director of the St. Germain Middle School, a secondary school for academically talented students. He has also served as education director for the public schools. St. Germain is a 12-year member of the National Association of Public School Administrators and a member of the University of Texas at Austin. Chamber members, educators and the general public are invited to attend.

Legislator to aid county in Texas Flat fund tries

BY DENA BISNETTE

State Representative J.P. Compretta has told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors that he will pre-file a bill that may provide economic development funds for rebuilding Texas Flat Road.

Last month, the board had inquired whether, due to the new Advanced Launch System and Advanced Solid Rocket Motor projects at Stennis Space Center, improvement of the road would qualify for economic development funding.

In past years, the previous board had tried to obtain assistance by emphasizing the board's military applications, since it is one of the routes to the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at Stennis.

According to Compretta, one of three co-authors of the proposed bill, the measure will actually extend the Economic Development Highway Act, a Mississippi Department of Economic Development program that Compretta said recently paid for a similar project in north Mississippi.

The proposed funding method is general obligation bonds issued by the state.

The proposal is also being backed by Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director Harold Olsen, who explained that "it all goes back to encouraging development at NASA" and providing local residents with jobs.

"We need to be recognized as the initiators of some of the things that are happening here," Olsen commented.

He said he is particularly interested in supporting the development possible through one of the space center's newest agencies, the Mississippi Technology Transfer Center, which pairs private industry with government technology.

Olsen and the supervisors are planning to ask the Mississippi Industrial Development Council and the Mississippi Association of Supervisors for support for the proposed bill.

Sections of the road were paved at one time, with most of the existing pavement from Highway 603 to the gate of McLeod Water Park.

Last year, sections of that pavement began to break up, and there are several areas where the road has not been repaved due to the expense. In addition, the road surface past the McLeod Park entrance is mostly gravel.

According to a letter from Board of Supervisors President Ronald Cuevas, several bridges also need replacement. To bring the road to Federal Highway Administration standards would cost about $14,145,175.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

One of our elderly subscribers dropped by the office a couple weeks ago to complain about her Social Security check.

She felt good about the $20 raise on her check, but came up on the short end because of an increase of $31.90 for insurance.

Since the lady only receives a small Social Security check, we can see why she was so upset.

We do realize she isn't the only resident of the area trying to make ends meet with only a Social Security check and know there are probably some folks who do not receive such a check during retirement.

Everyone has had to face increases in insurance premiums of all types in recent years.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Ethel Favre for being named as the recipient of Epsilon Sigma Phi's Outstanding Secretary award.

Ethel received the award at a recent Mississippi State University award presentation for the Cooperative Extension Service.

As many of you know, Ethel has been the secretary to the County Agent for 43 years in Hancock County. She has the longest tenure of any employee of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

We can think of no one more deserving of the award.

We stood to be and were corrected on the comments in the last column about Hancock County having a woman as a Supervisor for the first time.

I guess we are getting a little forgetful in our old age. Anyway, I should have remembered that Mrs. Frank (Samantha) Kellar was appointed Supervisor in District Two when her husband was killed in a hunting accident and she was elected to the position in 1959.

H.G. Dean of Pearlinton gave me a telephone call on Friday to remind me, so I went back and checked our bound volumes to find the year.

Mrs. Shaw was supervisor in the old District Two.

We were glad to see Veterans Day being celebrated in Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

There were respective crowds for the service at both of our American Legion posts.

We realize there are many persons around today who are too young to remember the great wars.

We know folks like World War I veteran Mr. Hugh Miller of Bay St. Louis can tell you about some of his experiences of war, like many others can from World War II, the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam Conflict.

Highway Patrol designates diabetic condition on license

Persons with diabetes can now have their driver's license stamped to identify them as being insulin dependent.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol has begun stamping the words "Insulin Dependent" on the front of drivers' licenses issued to diabetics. For further identification of insulin users, the background of the license holder's photograph will be yellow instead of blue.

To have a driver's license stamped "Insulin Dependent," the individual must have a physician fill out a medical form which is provided by the Driver License Examining Branch of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, said Major Jerry Jones, director of the patrol's Driver Services Bureau.

The physician, who should be licensed to practice medicine in the state of Mississippi, must certify on the form that the individual is an insulin-dependent diabetic. The form should then be given to licensing personnel when the individual applies for or renews a driver's license.

The cost of the license will remain at $3 for a regular operator license and $2 for a commercial operator license.

A fee will be charged for a duplicate license issued in the middle of a licensing period. Persons obtaining a duplicate must surrender their current license in return for a newly issued license bearing the word "Insulin Dependent" on the background.

For further information, contact the Mississippi Highway Patrol at (601) 467-5474.

"The insulin dependent medical form to be filled out by a physician may be obtained from any driver's license examining station or may be mailed upon request. Requests for the form to be mailed should be made by telephoning the Highway patrol at 987-1200 in Jackson," he said.

In this column, I would like to report on the activities of various Senate committees which have been studying the issues of regulation of residential child care facilities; hazardous waste; state government reorganization; reapportionment of voting districts; and junior and community colleges.

Residential Child Care Facilities
A subcommittee visited a sampling of residential child care facilities in the state during September and is proposing a "Child Residential Home Notification Act" for the 1989 Session. The intent is to impose minimum objective requirements upon children's homes which do not voluntarily license with the state.

The committee believes this act will attain a reasonable compromise between those who believe the state has no right to regulate church-affiliated groups and those who favor strict mandatory licensure of all group children's homes.

The act would require the homes to furnish the following information: name, address, and phone number of the home; name of the executive director and all staff; name and description of the agency operating the home; name of the sponsoring organization; names of all children living at the home, copies of their birth certificates, names and addresses of their parents or guardians and other nearest relatives; schools attended by the children; inspection certificates from the fire department and health departments; statement that the home has requested sex offense criminal history record information on the operator and any employee, applicant or full-time volunteer; and statement that medical records are maintained for each child.

Hazardous Waste
Our legislative Environmental Protection Council is working on a federally required plan for how Mississippi will dispose of its hazardous waste for the next 20 years. Presently, most of the state's hazardous waste is shipped out-of-state. Some states are considering placing limits on how much waste they will continue to accept from other states for disposal, so we must give great consideration to this issue before it becomes critical.

A proposal by a private firm to build an incinerator in Greene County is generating both support and opposition in the area. One alternative the council is looking at closely is to have a minimum number of incinerators in the state, with each state responsible for its own waste disposal. The council has agreed to small industries to help them minimize their waste.

On important bills, the council is taking into consideration tion regarding the disposal of infectious medical waste. The urgency for this was brought to light when medical waste was found washed up on Mississippi Gulf Coast beaches.

State Government Reorganization

The Senate and the House of Representatives both have select committees studying the reorganization of state government as proposed by the Governor's Commission which basically regrouped agencies and eliminated a few programs, such as the charity hospitals.

The two major issues appear to be whether a large number of jobs should be eliminated in order to effect a major savings and whether responsibility for many agencies should be taken from the control of citizen boards and given to the governor.

In keeping in mind their goal of providing increased efficiency of delivery of services to the people and saving tax dollars, the Senate committee plans to take its study far beyond the recommendations made by the Governor's Commission. One subcommittee is specifically studying governmental efficiency and new concepts. Another, the education subcommittee, plans to look at the broad issues of equity funding for school districts, the manner in which school superintendents and school board members are selected, and the qualifications of school board members to try to develop major savings without disturbing the basic operation of the attendance centers.

Reapportionment

After the census is taken in 1990, it will be the responsibility of state and local officials to look at the various voting districts, such as for Congress, the Legislature, supervisors, aldermen, justice court judges, and school board members, to determine if the districts are relatively equal on a population basis.

Mississippi is at a disadvantage because the census data may not be available until April, 1991 general election when we vote on everybody from justice court judges to governor.

Some alternatives being discussed include moving the qualifying deadline and primary election dates closer to the general election; changing election years to even-numbered years; postponing the election for one year; or trying to have the election without redistricting.

In order to get Mississippi's census data more quickly, the Legislative Reapportionment Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives are working now to provide the Census Bureau with maps that will enable our data to be reported by voting precincts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Public should assist in Little Theatre preservation

To the Editor:

I hope the stories that I am hearing about the destruction of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre building are not true and that certain elected officials are not supporting this notion. It is true that the grass gets a bit tall around the theatre, there are leaks in the roof, the stage floor has some weak spots, and the exterior could use some work and a coat of paint. And yes, there is the issue of who pays the utilities during rehearsals and performances. The building is worn, but it ain't broke!

The business about "lack of interest" is simply not true. There are no less than 25 talented theatre workers and performers that I have worked with in my four years on Boardman Avenue, all from this Bay-Waveland area, who would be most happy to stay on this side of "the bridge" to do quality shows.

Most of them, from the very young to the very mature, have access to a hammer, paint brush, lawn mower, a ladder and are able and willing to put these everyday skills to use. The singers, dancers, and actors need to get their derrieres in gear before we see the demolition of a local landmark.

Too much quality has come out of this theatre to simply destroy it, for as rumor has it, "put in another park or playground." What are we to do with the "playground" a couple of blocks down on Dunbar? Now there is an example of "demand" for you.

The building is good for more than just "shows," so why not investigate its potential by dropping by or calling your friends and acquaintances. Ask what they remember, as in past successes. Or, what would they like to see there.

Teachers: especially dance and music; why are you not taking advantage of this community facility? Oh, you probably like paying outrageous fees to rent high school auditoriums "across the bridge," right?

Examine consolidation before making school site decision

To the Editor:

Before any further work takes place at the Stennis Airpark school site or anywhere else pertaining to a new school site in Hancock County, we need to do the following:

We need five qualified school board members elected according to our state law House Bill 1127 that will render an independent decision once they know the opinion of the qualified voters.

We need an election held countywide to let the public determine whether or not we're going to consolidate the city-county school district. This has to be done before any sensible new school site can be established.

The sooner we do this the sooner we'll get a new high school in the right location.

The public has the right to voice their opinion. They are the taxpayers and they are responsible for their children and their children's education.

Everybody in favor of the above, please write to:

Concerned Citizens, 9190 Dummyline Rd., Picayune, Miss. 39466; or

J. C. Seal, P.O. Box 2693, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521-2693.

Please get involved with your help. We can have the best school system in the state!

Bay-Waveland Garden Club grateful for successful event

To the Editor:

Mrs. Thomas Tompkins, president of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club along with her executive board and members, wish to thank Ellis Cuevas and Janet McQueen of The Sea Coast Echo for the excellent editorials and picture coverage of our 50th Golden Anniversary Celebration.

Others who helped in our successful endeavor were Mrs. Clarence Evans who introduced the many guests who joined us on this auspicious occasion, including Betty Claggett, chairman of the board of trustees of Hancock County Libraries who presented president Tompkins with a plaque in appreciation for the library work done by Bay-Waveland Garden Club; Mrs. Waldo Otis, the only active, original member of the 19 organizers of our garden club, who was the recipient of a Lifetime Charter Member Award; Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz; many former members and past presidents; and the family members of the original organizers of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

The club expresses gratitude to Mrs. Thomas Murphree, pianist, who opened the reception ceremonies with the club song. To Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. Meg Hilliker for many, many hours of hard work involved in preparation for the program and the historical facts, and to Mrs. John Newkirk, hostess chairman, and her committee members, Mrs. Larry Burrows, Mrs. W. E. Cazau-bon, Mrs. Rene deMontluzin, Mrs. Walter Gherke, Mrs. E. M. Gibbons, Mrs. Matt Hunter, Mrs. E. Burton Kemp, Mrs. Lawrence Martin, Mrs. K. McKenna, Mrs. J. D. Rutherford, Mrs. John Schott, Mrs. Erskin Shelton, and Mrs. Richard St. Pe, who prepared and served delicious refreshments.

We look forward to many more years of continued service in furthering beautification and protection of native trees, shrubs, plants and birds throughout Hancock County.

Thank you all,

Side Street Crossings

By Dena Bisnette

There's a different kind of wildflowers dotting the landscape this season—the political candidate's sign.

Wait a minute! I'd bet I have you folks all thinking that this particular Side Street Crossings should have run before the election, not five days after it.

Nope. There's nothing wrong with the timing. I fully intended to run this in between the general election and the run-off.

You see, I happen to think all the candidates' signs, whether they are wooden, cardboard or paper, have their place before the election.

They help publicize the candidate, they give motorists something new to look at if they take the same old route to work every day, and you can amuse the kids riding with you by letting them count the signs.

If you're of an artistic bent, you can criticize the color schemes or the designs, or, if you're in the printing business, I'd imagine you can total up the profits in your head every time you see one, whether the money went to you or a competitor.

You can even keep score on which candidates spend the most campaign money, if you're concerned about such things.

I have a tendency to giggle at the portraits on them myself. No offense, but I have met most or all of the people running at least once and the portraits seldom impress me as a good likeness once they have been rained on a few times. Damp pictures make every candidate look like he's terrified to be photographed for his poster.

I particularly like the corner of US-90 and Longfellow, where at least one for each of the many supervisors candidates in Beat Four and a couple of other races too are clustered there like so many cardboard mushrooms. Everybody knows a good corner when he sees it?

After the elections, though, these wood-and-paper wildflowers turn into weeds, a kind of semi-organic litter. I think there ought to be an ordinance like Central Avenue six months after the last election and still seeing posters, especially for losing candidates. I was at a board meeting where Mayor John Longo Jr. finally told Waveland crews to remove them because it had become obvious that no one else would.

That kind of inspired me and I am not above stating that I took a few down myself after that.

SMH hosts holiday hustle coping seminars

It's time again to begin preparing for the coming holiday season. This includes not only holiday shopping and baking, but also preparing mentally for the hustle and bustle of the season.

The Regional Women's Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center is presenting two free community education programs which will focus on making preparation a breeze and coping possible during Christmas '88.

Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service Representative Sylvia Rivers will be among the guest speakers at The Parenting Center's holiday presentation, 'Holiday Treasures.'

Rivers will offer practical tips on ways to make family holidays, loving and simple. 'Mr. Teddy and Toys' will be the commentators of 'Holiday Treasures,' which will be presented from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Women's Resource Suite on Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Later that week, Dr. Patricia Aptaker, BCSW, of Aptaker Psychological Associates, will discuss the myths and ideas that recent research has shown on depression during the holidays and offer new insights on planning for a happy holiday season in 'Making the Best of the Holiday: A Psychological Approach.'

This free seminar will begin at noon, Friday, Nov. 18, in the Women's Resource Suite of the Regional Women's Center.

Space is limited for both of these programs therefore pre-registration is requested.

Persons wishing to attend the 'Holiday Treasures' seminar, sponsored by The Parenting Center, may pre-register by calling (504) 649-8529.

'Making the Best of the Holiday: A Psychological Approach' pre-registration may be made by calling the Regional Women's Center at (504) 649-8617.

WLOX-TV announces opening of Hancock County bureau

In a continuing effort to better serve the viewers of Hancock County, WLOX-TV 13 announces the opening of a Hancock County news bureau in Bay St. Louis.

According to general manager Leon Long, statistics show that these areas are among the fastest growing in the state, and although Hancock County has been served by WLOX in the past, we feel this new bureau will even further enhance our coverage.

Serving as the bureau chief for the new Hancock County facility will be three-year WLOX veteran Natalie Bell. According to news director Dave Vincent, "Natalie has reported on the news and people of Hancock and Pearl River counties for over 10 years. She has gained the respect and admiration of the various communities, thus making her the natural choice for this assignment."

The Hancock County operation will become WLOX's third bureau. The station also operates a capital bureau in Jackson and a mobile bureau in the Gulf of Mexico. The station's Bay St. Louis bureau will be located at the Bank Building, 100 N. Main Blvd., Suite A, Bay St. Louis. There will have been no change in the station's news coverage. For advertising rates call (504) 649-1313.

Thanks to all my family and friends who supported me and voted for me in the special election for Supervisor District Three.

Junior/Community Colleges

A subcommittee has been visiting some of the 15 junior and community colleges throughout the state to study their missions and operation. The committee has been pleased to find the wide variety of courses taught, including everything from robotics to optical dispensing, and the many services provided to the local communities.

The big issue at present is whether the system should continue to be governed statewide by an independent board or whether it should be placed under the State College board as recommended by the Governor's Commission on Executive Branch Reorganization. This subcommittee is also studying the makeup and size of the various local boards which govern each school.

Christmas Seal profits support research, education

Christmas Seals are arriving in homes and businesses in Mississippi and across the nation as the annual Christmas Seal campaign is underway.

Chronic respiratory and lung diseases claim more than 320,000 American lives each year and this number includes our fellow Mississippians, said G. Boyd Shaw, MD of Jackson, president of the Mississippi Lung Association.

Christmas Seal dollars support vital patient services, public and medical education and research for better lung health. They help the Mississippi Lung Association prevent and controlling diseases and help educate the public to the fact that smoking, air pollution and occupational lung hazards are preventable causes of lung problems.

Christmas seals help family members, friends and neighbors who suffer from lung cancer, tuberculosis, emphysema, chronic bronchitis or asthma and who must learn to cope with chronic lung disease. Christmas Seals help all of us who want clean air to breathe for ourselves and our children.

Mississippians are urged to respond generously to our Christmas Seal letter. Ninety cents of every dollar remains in Mississippi to assist Mississippians of all ages who suffer with lung problems. The remaining ten cents goes for national lung programs and research. For information on Christmas Seal services or to receive seals, contact the Mississippi

Lung Association, P.O. Box 9865, Jackson, MS 39286, or telephone 362-5453. Christmas Seals are a "matter of life and breath."

Quit smoking.

Leukemia Society

The Leukemia Society has found a way to make the holiday season bright for children in Mississippi and throughout the country while raising funds to combat leukemia and its related diseases.

The society's 'Santagram' program offers personalized letters to children from Santa Claus with surprise gifts in each. "Children love to receive mail. Imagine the excitement and happy faces when they open their very own letter from Santa Claus," said Bass.

The 'Santagrams' will be sent directly to children in time for Christmas if orders are received by Dec. 10.

'Santagrams' are being offered for $2.25 each with one child's name on each letter. Ninety cents from each 'Santagram' will go to support the Leukemia Society's programs of research, patient aid, public and professional education and community service.

The Leukemia Society is helping over 222 Mississippi leukemia patients cover the high costs of prescription drugs, transportation to and from treatment centers, and certain medical tests.

For information about leukemia and its related diseases or to find out how to order 'Santagrams,' contact the Leukemia Society's Mississippi office at P.O. Box 4956, Jackson, MS 39296 or 982-5334.

Hotel Sales and Marketing

The Magnolia Chapter of Hotel Sales and Marketing International hosted more than 120 travelers from Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Alabama this past weekend in Biloxi.

They were business people, state government representatives and meeting planners in charge of planning conventions for their associations and businesses.

The purpose of the Gulf Coast familiarization weekend was to spotlight Coast events, attractions and accommodations in hopes of attracting more conventions.

Clarice Gustin, marketing director for Diamondhead Country Club, was one of the 30 host/hostesses for the weekend event. The conventioners were treated to receptions, dinners, luncheons, and tours of the Coast.

On Saturday afternoon a trade show was presented to explain what the different members of HSMI could offer for conventions coming to our area. Gustin and Brenda Graybeal, activities coordinator for Diamondhead Country Club participated in this event by providing a booth featuring Diamondhead amenities such as golf course, tennis complex, accommodations, country club and yacht club and what Diamondhead has to offer for conventions, seminars and meetings.

Professional Secretaries

The Gulf Coast Chapter of Professional Secretaries International held its regular monthly meeting Nov. 8 at the Biloxi Mississippi Power District Office.

Discussion was held concerning the upcoming PSI Mississippi Division meeting on May 19, 20 and 21, which will be in Biloxi. Professional Secretaries International is the world's leading organization for secretaries, promoting competence and recognition for those in the profession and provides opportunities for continuing education and personal development.

Secretaries interested in the Professional Secretaries International organization may contact Avis O'Hara at 865-5784 or Lee Bass at 374-0404/872-1096. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month in the Mississippi Power Company Biloxi District Office auditorium at 6 p.m.

World War I Veterans Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of World War I, USA No. 2537 was held at the American Legion Home Oct. 27.

The meeting was called to order by president Lois Fallo, opening prayer was read by chaplain Kathy Adam, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

Fallo, also department president, told the group about an executive board meeting to be held in Jackson Nov. 9 at State Headquarters, War Memorial Building.

General Orders No. 1 from national president Julia Dickson was read, with emphasis on "Be a Sister to a Sister" and the fine friendships formed in this exclusive organization. Members were also reminded to fly the flag on Nov. 11.

Fallo also reported on recent visits to schools to stress Americanism.

Past department president Genevieve Cole reported on a recent Veterans Fall Carnival held at the VA Gulfport Hospital and that it was a tremendous success, which the veterans enjoyed very much.

Following the meeting the WW I veterans joined the group for a lovely meal, beautifully decorated for the Halloween season.

Next meeting is Nov. 17 since regular meeting would fall on Thanksgiving Day.

Braves prove too big for Hawks, Hancock dropped from play-offs

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock North Central Hawks have been eliminated from South State play-off competition, dropping a first-round game 28-6 to the South Jones Braves of Ellisville.

According to Coach Tim Favre, South Jones was just a little more than the Hawks could handle.

Both teams have the same basic style of offense, with a strong line and reliance on a Wing-T formation that makes good use of speedy running backs. The Hawks went into the game on their guard about the speed, but their opponent's size turned out to be a factor that made the difference.

Favre said the Braves had about five fast running backs, a situation similar to that of Hancock.

"The teams we played this year, we were big enough to stop them, then we had fast backs to send at them," the coach said.

"We played a pretty good game over all, but we just wore down," Favre said. "They had people weighing 235 on the line of scrimmage and wore us down third quarter, but the game was closer than the score indicated."

"We finished 9-2," he added. "We thought we had a very good year." The 9-2 statistic includes the play-off game, with the only other loss being to d'Iberville in the last regular season game.

"We were proud of our kids. We accomplished the goal we set at the beginning of the year and that was to get into the play-offs."

"Friday night we told our kids not to hang their heads because we feel South Jones is going to be the team to contend with in the state championship this year," Favre said, adding his prediction that South Jones will eventually battle the Hawks' only other 1988 conquerer, d'Iberville, for the title.

"This loss last night wasn't like the one the week before. The coaching staff was pleased last night; we played hard and we didn't give it away."

The Braves, a Division VI team, scored first Friday with a first-quarter touchdown on a 30-yard pass from Jason Simpson to Doug Coleman in a third down and long situation. The PAT attempt missed.

South scored again in the second quarter when Simpson connected with Glynn Branch on a 15-yard pass, then added two points on a run for a conversion. Going into the second half 14 points behind, Hancock scored in the third quarter after Jeff Moran set the Hawks up in Braves territory with a 40-yard pass to Ronald Doyle. Terrence Goff was credited with the touchdown, running the ball in for the remaining 20 yards. The PAT attempt was unsuccessful and Hancock still trailed 14-6.

South Jones scored again on two running plays by fullback Michael Ross, missing on the first PAT and picking up the two points on a run for a conversion, leaving the final score at 28-6.

South Jones, which was Class 4-A runner-up to West Point, now has a 10-1 record and advances to the second round, hosting local rival Watkins High School of Laurel.

Hawk Jeff Moran carries the ball in a previous game.

Smokers test independence on November 17

Mark Twain once commented that quitting smoking was easy—he had done it a hundred times.

The implication of Twain's humorous observation isn't so funny, and it has been confirmed by scientific evidence, say local volunteers of the American Cancer Society.

"Cigarettes and other forms of tobacco containing nicotine are addictive—that was the finding of the most recent Surgeon General's report," said Dr. Purushottam Pande, MD, chairman of the Professional Education Committee of the Harrison County Unit of the American Cancer Society. "The obvious implication is that quitting smoking is a very difficult task indeed for some smokers," he said.

Scientists have long suspected tobacco contained some sort of addictive substance, Pande said. "Only recently was nicotine firmly established as the addictive agent," he said. "All tobacco products—cigars, cigarettes, low-tar cigarettes, even snuff and chewing tobacco—contain substantial amounts of nicotine," he said.

The addictive properties of the nicotine help to explain why some users experience "withdrawal symptoms" when they try to abstain," Pande said.

Local American Society volunteers are urging smokers to use the occasion of the Great American Smokeout Nov. 17 to "test" their dependence on tobacco, said Mike Jones, chairman of the Smokeout in Harrison County.

Millions of Americans have quit smoking, most of them on their own without the benefit of intervention programs," Jones said. "Apparently the addictive properties of nicotine affect some smokers more than others."

Pande agrees. "Smoking is a complex behavior, and what works for some does not work for others," he said.

"But it is important for the smoker who wants to quit to understand what quitting will mean for him or her. That includes understanding the benefits of quitting and realizing that short term sacrifices may be necessary for success," Pande said.

Jones explained that smokers are asked to give up their smoking for one day—24 hours—during the Great American Smokeout. This year's Smokeout, the 12th annual, will be observed Nov. 17. "According to a Gallup Survey, 19.6 million smokers tried to do without cigarettes during last year's Smokeout," he said.

"We take an upbeat approach—no nagging allowed," Jones said. "We can guarantee that any smoker who tries to quit on Smokeout Day will have plenty of company, with so many other smokers making the same effort," he said.

Pande said extra help is available for smokers trying to quit for good who find it too hard to go it alone. "There are a number of behavioral approaches, including the American Cancer Society's 'FreshStart' program," he said.

"If behavior changes alone don't seem to do the trick, of course you should consult your physician to see if another approach, like a temporary nicotine substitute, might be appropriate," Pande said.

For more information about the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout, FreshStart program, or other tips on quitting, contact your local office of the society at 868-7774.

When there's really 'nothing to eat' the Food Pantry helps out

BY JANET MCQUEEN

A familiar reverberation heard in kitchens is "There is nothing to eat". In many homes this may translate into the pantry being inadequately stocked with Doritos, Double-Staffed Oreos or the junk food of choice. In others, it can be taken literally.

The Hancock County Food Pantry has provided food for approximately 1,814 families since May, 1986. Some 6,445 individuals have been served, with most of those being children.

Staffed by close to 60 volunteers from local churches, the pantry operation is funded entirely through donations.

"The county has been marvelous to work with," according to Evelyn Johnson, one of the founding members. "We also rely on United Way support, along with the continuing assistance of individuals, civic organizations and the churches—the bulwark of our backing."

The vestibules of area churches are equipped with boxes for the deposit of non-size of the family.

Prepared bags contain bread, rolls and doughnuts, peanut butter and jelly, tea, canned meats and tuna, pork and beans, tomatoes and tomato sauce, soup, rice, beans, macaroni and cheese, flour, sugar, spaghetti, soap and detergent.

Volunteers assemble the non-perishable items for various size families to distribute as the need arises. Others interview applicants or purchase needed food staples. All questionnaires are given away, and coloring books along with dried beans collected by Susan Dargatzis of Bookends Bookstore.

Johnson, along with original volunteer members Bea de Rocha and Ida Piazza, report that donations to the pantry have dropped over the past year, possibly indicating leaner economic times experienced in Hancock County recently.

Reflections

Root for the best

By Fr. Jerome LeDoux, SVD

"Gilbert became unique as a force—the most powerful storm to hit the western hemisphere in this century. Its counterclockwise wind speed peaked at an estimated 200 M.P.H. at 10,000 ft. and 175 m.p.h. at ground level; its 16.13-in. barometric pressure was the lowest ever recorded."

These words in "Time" magazine (9-26-88) were typical of the descriptions given by virtually every periodical, newspaper, radio and TV station which attempted to describe the monster storm.

For decades, the unnamed hurricane of 1935, which savaged the Florida Keys, had had the distinction of being considered the most severe storm of the century, because it had registered a barometric pressure reading even lower than that of Camille's.

Now Gilbert had arrived, the potential monster of the century. After listening to and reading the comments and analyses of most of the media, one had the distinct impression that they were unconsciously rooting for Gilbert to become that Monster in fact.

Of course, no one would root for such a thing consciously. Presumably, no media person is that irresponsible. Nonetheless, there are pieces of evidence which seem to point to a type of monster-rooting hysteria about several disaster areas of nature.

That may sound like a harsh indictment, except for the fact that the media people are no different from the rest of us. Apart from the specific activities of their craft, media people think, say and do virtually the same things as the rest of us. And, of course, monstrous calamities of nature make great copy.

This monster-rooting hysteria was very much in evidence as the drought of '88 set in. Much of the reporting sounded like rooting or betting that this was the drought of the century, although the days of the Dust Bowl were obviously much worse.

There was a "freeze of the century" in '61, '81 and '83, countered, of course, by the "heat wave of the century" in '88. It all sounds fascinating, exciting, scary—and contradictory.

"The most powerful storm to hit the western hemisphere in this century" is not technically correct, since Hawaii is part of this hemisphere and it is sometimes raked by typhoons, many of which have far exceeded all hurricanes in violence and speed.

Further, low barometric pressure is not necessarily connected directly with wind speed. Witness that Gilbert's lowered pressure the night before landfall was not followed by increased speed.

Witness also "Time" magazine's account (8-20-69) which reported hurricane Camille's winds at 210 m.p.h., as compared to Gilbert's 175, although Camille's pressure was slightly higher.

It is understandable that we get excited about the mysterious, mind-bending forces of nature. Nevertheless, we need to rein in our very human propensity to moan about the negative and to magnify the catastrophic, even to the point of becoming insensitive.

This propensity is very akin to the gossip-news-rumor hunger which most of us have to fight deep inside ourselves. This hunger can easily lead us to be very negative, maybe even cynical about people and things. In short, we may root for what is not good.

God forbid that we should consciously root for what is not good. Yet, root we do when we run the gossip mill, even concerning things which are true. We cannot afford to root for any evil.

Especially with life being as tough as it often is, we can afford to root only for the good, the better and the best in each person and circumstance which make up the context of our lives.

LEADERSHIP SEMINAR—Recently attending a Mississippi State University sponsored Family Community Leadership program in Jackson, Miss. were Wanda Berthelot of Waveland, Hancock County Extension Home Economist Darlene Underwood and Norma Haas, both of Waveland. (Echo staff photo by Janet McQueen)

Homemakers attend leadership program

Wanda Berthelot, Lakeshore; Norma Haas and Darlene Underwood, Waveland, attended the first State Training Institute of the Family Community Leadership program in Jackson Oct. 17-19.

Family Community Leadership (FCL) is an educational program jointly sponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and the Mississippi Extension Homemakers Council. The program, funded by a $50,000 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the Mississippi Extension Homemakers Council, offers involvement in community leadership.

The goals of FCL are three-fold. First is education—to understand the issues affecting families and communities and to become competent in decision-making skills. The second goal is participation—to involve participants who have learned to lead effectively in solving community and family-related issues. The third goal is organization—to develop resources within Cooperative Extension and local communities which support the leaders and groups.

Because FCL teaches skills with the purpose of increasing leadership and involvement of families in community affairs, it is innovative. Volunteers and Extension staff work as teams in all parts of the program.

Participants in FCL are taught by peers. They practice skills related to citizen participation and learn to become teachers themselves. In this way the impact of the program is multiplied.

For most participants at this workshop there was something almost magical about being at the FCL training institute. The spirit that was slowly created over the three-day workshop is one of wonder, self-expression, self-awareness and self-confidence. The personal reward from a FCL workshop is much more than most trainers ever anticipate.

What people seemed to unanimously agree upon is the personal growth that takes place with FCL. Ann Melton, an Extension Homemaker from Ackerman and a certified FCL trainer, says "FCL is so valuable to me because of how I have grown. Over the years with Extension Homemakers, I've learned valuable homemaking skills but FCL has taught me valuable personal skills."

Leadership skills, communications networking and policy issues, instructional skills were seminars attended by the women.

Civic groups, church organizations or schools may call Underwood's office at 467-5456 to schedule one of the ladies to address a group on one of the above topics.

Chappy to host another 'Healthy Holiday Cooking'

Due to the overwhelming response to its "Healthy Holiday Cooking" with Chef John (Chappy) Chapman last week, Hancock Medical Center will host the program again at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 16 in the HMC cafeteria.

In this free class, Chappy will demonstrate how to prepare a delicious variety of holiday dishes, low in salt and cholesterol, that even heart patients can enjoy.

Hosting the program will be HMC's consulting dietician Jami Rodenbaugh, MS, RD. The course will cover basic nutrition principles and ways to modify holiday recipes to be healthy, but retain good taste.

Participants will receive copies of all recipes and will sample the prepared dishes.

Seating is limited, so reservations for the class must be made by Monday, Nov. 14 by calling 467-9081 ext. 2200.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club met at the Waveland Library for their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 10 with Lois Cripple presiding. There were 24 members present and two guests, Marge Jones and Kathleen Ridgley.

Coming events under discussion were the annual barbecue and the December meeting, which is also the Christmas party.

The barbecue will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 13 at the home of Alice Winchester, 323 Nicholson Ave., Waveland. Yard games will be played, with lunch served about 2 p.m.

Ruth Gallagher has donated a prize which will be raffled off. Guests will be welcome, and members are reminded to bring portable tables and chairs and their own beverages.

The Christmas luncheon meeting will be at Chappy's Restaurant in Long Beach at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 8. Everyone will be given a free ticket to compete for numerous door prizes to be purchased by the club or donated by members.

There will also be a gift exchange among the participants. Further, the drawing of the hand crocheted afghan made and donated by Theda Fischer will be held, with the proceeds being used to buy Christmas presents for needy children of the community.

Fun and Games Day will be at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 30 at the home of Irene Johnston, 213 N. Beach Blvd., Waveland. A complimentary luncheon will be served, followed by an afternoon of games or a 'plain ole gabfest' where hopefully we can get better acquainted with our new members.

A nominating committee has been appointed to prepare a slate of officers for the coming year. They are Georgia Williams, chairman, Theresa Bourgeois and Marian Rapp. In addition, nominations will be taken from the floor at the January and February meetings, with election held in February.

Joanne Lagasse from Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) was our speaker. She gave an interesting account of the setup of the organization, how it operates, in what capacity volunteers are utilized, and where new ones are needed.

Nathalie Miller provided sandwiches and Julia Loup coffee for the refreshment break. Myrt Flinn was the winner of this month's door prize.

"Let's talk turkey. Instead of seasoning your turkey the usual way, try it from another side -- under the skin. You'll find the complete recipe to this and other dishes in K mart's November Kornerstones® located in our Kitchen Korner. You'll also find everything you need to turn your dinner table into a feast for your eyes."

A new concept in the enjoyment of leisure time at home!

©Copyright, 1979, Rest-A-Matic® Adjustable Beds

—so versatile, so advanced it makes ordinary chairs, sofas, and beds practically obsolete for leisure activities, relaxation, and sleep!

Here's an amazing discovery that enriches the hours you spend at home...making the most of healthful relaxation. REST-A-MATIC®... An engineering marvel that makes (what looks like) a conventional bed... into an ADJUSTABLE BED... that changes to literally hundreds of restful positions. Quiet electric motors concealed in the understructure of the REST-A-MATIC® do your bidding at the touch of a button.

The Rest-A-Matic® Adjustable Bed provides the ultimate in comfort and relaxation in your home...where you can enjoy extra leisure hours the most.

Now your bedroom is not just for sleeping! With Rest-A-Matic®...it becomes a center for your most rewarding leisure-time activities...reading, studying, sewing...watching TV... or even breakfast in bed!

People of all ages...in all walks of life are now finding new ways to enrich their lives with healthful, vigorous activities...for a renewed spirit of enjoyment, physically and mentally. And equally important to this renewed activity...is the enjoyment of total relaxation!

Rest-A-Matic® lets your mind work while your body rests. You may actually be able to add extra hours every day to your active life because you'll be more comfortable... more relaxed, yet wide-awake. you will soon find that muscle tension will be relieved in every part of your body... because your body weight is more evenly distributed and supported than in any chair or ordinary bed.

Couples can now enjoy these extra pleasant hours spent together... each enjoying a preference of relaxed activities. With the new Dual-King model, for example, you can sit up watching television, perhaps, while your spouse can lie back even further for relaxed conversation... or just a pleasant rest.
